Dr. Albino Triaca: Indications and limitations of surgical procedures

Saturday, September 21st, 2013, Session 1: 8:40-9:05

ABSTRACT

The main goal of the presentation is the comparison of conventional bone augmentation in the maxilla and mandible with the augmentation by means of distraction osteogenesis.

With respect to the conventional bone augmentation we present a new method for soft tissue coverage. The pre-prosthetic alveolar distraction is presented as based on the common distraction techniques applied on the maxilla and mandible. The surgical technique as well as experiences, problems and results of distraction osteogenesis in maxillofacial surgery are discussed.

Dr. Domingo Martin: New orthodontic techniques: easier and invisible

Thursday, September 19th, 2013, Session 2: 11:40-12:05

ABSTRACT

My talk will be on the integration of esthetic dentistry and orthodontics. Today it is almost imperative to give our patients the most optimum in esthetics and function. With orthodontics alone this in many cases is almost impossible since our patients (especially adults) come with a myriad of problems that make it very difficult to reach our esthetic goals with only orthodontics. This is the reason that today to be able to obtain our goals in a high percentage of patients, it is an obligation to work with a colleague with an excellent preparation in esthetic dentistry without ignoring function. In my presentation I will share with you cases where the symbiosis of orthodontics and prosthodontics yields excellent long term results.
